

Funding Growth through Innovation

Innovation Brings Rewards

There are many rewards to be won from bringing new products to market. Handled correctly the research and development of new products can lead to growth in sales, profit, turnover and increase the net worth of the business.

How to manage Innovation?

The challenge is often how to ensure that your best talent is utilised on new ideas, without having a detrimental effect on your current products and services

The obvious answer is to employ third parties with specialist skills and expertise. The challenge is how do you fund such partners?

Funding Innovation

- Are you maximising the R&D TAX advantages that are available from HMRC for research and development?
- UK Government Grants for R&D projects are now readily available ?
- Does your idea qualify for European funding?
- Are you getting the appropriate support from your Bank to support innovation?
- Considering funding through private equity, what do you need to know and where do you look?

We find the right kind of funding for your project, handle the technical evaluation, the complex legislation and, complete the paperwork, leaving you free to focus on the project in hand.
